DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Provide steps to the Abstract (Paragraph 1 (5) in the last Office Action).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sonobe (US 4,618,209).

Sonobe discloses in Figs. 7-9 leads mounted to PCBs and cutting-off frame and tie-bar portions;

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sonobe (US 4,618,209) in view of Seino et al (US 4,785,533), and further in view of Hahn (US 5,953,803).

Sonobe discloses the lead portion is bent before inserted as shown in Figs. 8-9, except different length lead portions from a common lead frame and using a jig to bend and insert lead portions.

Art Unit: 3729

Seino discloses different length lead portions from a common lead frame Figs. 4-5.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Sonobe by providing different length lead portions from a common lead frame, as taught by Seino, for the purpose of securing different size and configuration electronic components for users' desire.

At the time the invention was made, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person of ordinary skill in the art to use a jig to bend the lead portion because Applicant has not disclosed that using a jig to bend the lead portion provides an advantage, is used for a particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify Sonobe to use a jig to meet the invention as specified in claim 3.

Hahn discloses using a jig to insert lead portions (Fig. 5B).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Sonobe by using a jig to insert lead portions, as taught by Hahn, for the purpose of increasing securing leads to PCBs.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 5/31/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

It is well known in the art or inherent for a printed circuit board to have a plurality of circuits (internal and external), pads, plated through holes, etc. Sonobe's terminals are making electrical connections with plated through holes. The interlink plate 2 is searpated. Fig. 9 shows making terminal 1 in an upward position.

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., thereafter reforming the lead portions in anticipation of a connection to a second PCB) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Interviews After Final

7. Applicant note that an interview after a final rejection must be submitted briefly in writing the intended purpose and content of the interview (the agenda of the interview must be in writing). Upon review of the agenda, the Examiner may grant the interview if the examiner is convinced that disposal or clarification for appeal may be accomplished with only nominal further consideration. Interviews merely to restate arguments of record or to discuss new limitations will be denied. See MPEP 714.13 and 713.09.

Conclusion

8. Please provide reference numerals (either in parentheses next to the claimed limitation or in a table format with one column listing the claimed limitation and another column listing corresponding reference numerals in the remark section of the response to the Office Action) to all the claimed limitations as well as support in the disclosure for better clarity (optional). Applicants are duly reminded that a full and proper response to this Office Action that includes any amendment to the claims and specification of the application as originally filed requires that the applicant point out the support for any amendment made to the disclosure, including the claims. See 37 CFR 1.111 and MPEP 2163.06.

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
